Submit an article

TJN will publish primary research, systematic reviews, commentaries, protocols and case studies from nurses and other healthcare professionals. Visit the authors section at www.tanzaniannurses.co.uk/authors for instructions on submitting your manuscripts. For publication on the January 2011 issue, submit your manuscripts by October 2010.

Become a reviewer

We are looking for reviewers with expertise in specific areas of nursing. The aim of independent review is to ensure the published paper reflects current knowledge. Being a reviewer is an important activity for any researchers and is a good way to contribute to body of knowledge while improving your CV.
